III. Read the passage and then answer the questions below.

I'm interested in sports, especially athletics, and I run seven or eight kilometers every day. I particularly enjoy cross country running, where you have to run across fields, jump over streams and so on. While I'm running I think about all sorts of things, and at the end of a run I'm sometimes surprised to find that I've managed to solve a problem that was on my mind.

Next year, I'm going to try the London Marathon. It's hard race 26 miles, or 42 kilometers-and you have to be tough to finish, but I very much want to do it. I worry a bit about getting too old, and I'd like to prove to myself that I'm still almost as fit as I was twenty years old.

I'm interested in mountaineering as well as running. I'll never become an expert climber, but I know what I'm doing in the mountains. I successfully completed a course in snow and ice climbing when I was younger; and I've done a series of easy climbs in the Alps during the last few years. My wife doesn't share my interest in mountains. She agreed to go climbing with me once, but she found that she felt ill as soon as she got above 1,000 meters.

Câu 26: If you do cross country running, you must ____.

- A. cross your country B. run along the coast C. cross your countryside D. cross fields, stream and so on Câu 27: At the end of a run the writer sometimes finds that ____.

- A. he can solve problem on his mine B. he grows bigger C. he feels better D. he gets a surprising problem

Câu 28: The writer wants to take part in the London Marathon because ____.

- A. it helps to keep him fit B. he wants to do it before getting old
C. the reward is great D. it helps him solve his problems

Câu 29: The writer takes up mountaineering because ____.

- A. he wants to become an expert climber B. he simply likes it
C. his wife is interested in it D. it is easy to practice

Câu 30: The writer's wife is not interested in mountaineering for ____.

- A. it doesn't bring her any interest C. She doesn't want to climb together with her husband

IV. B. she almost feels ill at the height of above 1,000 meters D. The air is cold

Each summer, the Winant and Clayton Volunteer program sends a group of Americans to volunteer in London for seven weeks and provides housing and a small stipend to help defray the high cost of living. After seven weeks of volunteering, participants have two weeks to travel independently before returning to London to evaluate the program and get their flight back to the United States.

The application includes a few short essays, a series of questions about the type of placement one would prefer, and an informal interview with former volunteers that gives applicants a chance to find out more about the program.

Deciding to participate takes a small leap of faith. The roster of volunteer placements and housing options can change from year to year and volunteers can't choose their placement in advance. But once you're accepted you instantly feel that you've joined a close-knit group. The volunteer coordinator is in frequent contact through mailings and e-mails to help you prepare for the trip, and there is a daylong orientation in New York that bring all the volunteers together before departure for London.

MISSING THE TRAIN

The train I was travelling on was already half an hour late. I had arranged to arrive in Vienna at 7.15 in time to catch the 7.25 train to Paris, but there was no hope of that now. I explained the situations to the ticket collector who advised me to get off two stops before Vienna Central Station and take a taxi. When the time came, he even helped me with my luggage. He wished me good luck as I jumped off, and a few minutes late I was racing towards the centre of the city in a taxi. It was almost 7.25 when we stopped outside the station, paid the driver quickly, seized my bags and hurried inside. "Paris train?" was all I had time to say to the first official I saw. You could imagine my disappointment when he pointed to a train that was just moving out of the station at great speed!

- Câu 36: What does the word "seized" in this passage mean?

 B The writer wanted to catch the 7.25 train to Paris.
 C The train the writer was travelling to Vienna was thirty minutes late.
 D Finally, the writer caught the train to Paris at 7.25.
 Câu 39: How did the writer arrive at Vienna Centre Station?
 A by train B by bus C by car D by taxi
 Câu 40: What time had the writer arranged to arrive in Vienna?
 A at 7.30 B at 7.00 C at 7.15 D at 7.25
